

STOP HATE TOGETHER

COMMUNITY PROGRAM ABOUT HATE CRIMES

The number of hate crimes has been steadily rising in Connecticut in recent years. You are invited to a discussion about how the state and communities are responding. Learn how hate crimes are identified, reported, and investigated -- and how you can play a role in preventing them.

WHO: DESPP Commissioner Ronnell Higgins, Danbury Police Chief Patrick Ridenhour, Connecticut State Police Hate Crimes Investigative Unit and Assistant State's Attorney for Judicial District of Danbury Mary-Caitlin Harding

FOR: All individuals and communities are welcome.

WHEN: Thursday, July 17, 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

WHERE: Hatters Hall, 7 East Hayestown Road, Danbury
